CRIME WAVE IS EXPECTED IN FRANCE

GREAT INCREASE IN CRIME

Sociologists Predict Revolution and Unorganized Rioting.

Paris—The total losses from robberies and burglaries in Paris last year amounted to 34,000,000 francs. Of this, 2,500,000 francs represents the losses of the French ministry of finance in treasury bonds and 700,000 forgeries of various kinds in connection with the drawing of soldiers' pay. This is taken to indicate that France may expect a wave of crime similar to that which already has commenced in the United States, although as yet there have been no murderous attacks such as are said to be filling the American penitentiaries.

French sociologists are perturbed and declare that the increasing idleness and accumulation of debts are responsible and that unless the crisis is solved by the government before spring anything from a revolution to a state of unorganized rioting can be expected.

Apart from the raid on the underground vaults of the treasury, the average loss in burglaries, etc., is said to have been less than 10,000 francs. The fact is that hardly a day passes now without the press reporting hold-up of taxi chauffeurs, working girls and late pedestrians, but in only a few cases is any bodily harm done.

BRITISH TROOPS VACATE SECTION OF DUBLIN

Sentries Posted on Roofs and Soldiers Patrol Street.

Dublin—The barricades and the troops cordoning a wide area in North Dublin were removed Tuesday. Sentries were posted on roofs of houses and armed troops patrolled the neighborhood during the withdrawal.

An appeal against the infliction of the death penalty on Joseph Murphy was heard before the court of appeals today. Decision was deferred until January 25 and the execution postponed until January 27.

The law courts lie within the area which is surrounded by the new military cordon. It is understood the courts were included in the area because the military had received information indicating that Sinn Feiners contemplated a raid to release Murphy.

CLOUDBURST DOES $250,000 DAMAGE IN HONOLULU

Honolulu—A cloudburst in the Palolo valley, back of Honolulu, following unprecedented rains of the past few weeks, caused damage estimated by city and county officials of $250,000. A few small houses in the suburbs of Honolulu were swept away.

Four persons were drowned, according to an unverified report. Many bridges of the Oahu Railway were demolished. Rural highways were blocked by debris. The Royal Grove district of Waikiki was flooded.

BRITISH BARE NEW EGYPTIAN "AVENGER" PLOT

London—The authorities in Egypt are said to have discovered another conspiracy similar to that of the "Avengers Society," an alleged anti-British society, uncovered last fall, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cairo, dated Wednesday. In October last twenty-five members of the organizations were convicted of conspiracy by a court. Numerous assassinations and attempted murders were credited to this society.

175,000 MEN IN REGULAR ARMY, SAYS CONGRESS

HOUSE VOTES UNANIMOUS

President Expected to Veto Measure, Is Late Report.

Washington—The size of the regular army was definitely fixed by both houses of Congress at 175,000 men.

By a vote of 41 to 33 the senate reversed its action of Friday, reducing the strength of the army to 150,000 men and repassed the New resolution directing the secretary of war to suspend enlistments until a reduction to 175,000 men was accomplished.

A few minutes later the house, by an almost unanimous vote, adopted a similar resolution. The measure now goes to the president, who, in view of the opposition of the war department, is expected to veto it. Prospects are that it will be passed over the veto by a wide margin.

The resolution was urged on the ground of economy. It is expected to save the government approximately $40,000,000 a year. The size of the army today is about 235,000 men. Under the provisions of the resolution it will reach the 175,000 minimum about next September.

The senate's change of mind was influenced largely by the testimony of Secretary of War Baker and General Pershing before the military affairs committee and by the telegrams of protest against such a radical reduction of the army's size from organizations throughout the country.

JOHNSON SEEKS FACTS ON "S. SIBERIAN ACTS"

Resolution May Bring American Situation Into Foreground.

Washington—Senator Johnson of California introduced a resolution in the senate Tuesday, which, while not intended to relate directly to the controversy between the United States and Japan respecting Japanese occupation of Siberian territory, if adopted, would bring to light all facts concerning the American expedition to Siberia. The resolution follows:

"Resolved, That the foreign relations committee or a subcommittee thereof be and it is hereby authorized to investigate the sending of United States soldiers to Siberia, the purpose of their presence there; their activities and accomplishments, if any, and also the condition and situation of citizens of the United States, and the interests of citizens of the United States in Siberia."

The state department is inclined to take the view that the interference with and detention of American sailors by Japanese sentries in Vladivostok subsequently to the killing by a Japanese sentry of Lieutenant W. H. Langdon of the cruiser Albany were cases of perfunctory challenge and it is inclined to await further reports from its own and the navy department's investigations at Vladivostok and the reply of its note to the Japanese foreign office before making any further representations to the Tokio government.

U. S. SECRETARY DISCUSSES RUSSIAN TRADE RESUMPTION

Washington—The disinclination of American exporters to accept any part of the $100,000,000 in gold which soviet Russia is reported to be ready to spend for foreign goods is the only impediment to the resumption of trade between the United States and Russia.

Charging that the soviet's money had been stolen from banks and individuals, the commerce secretary said the soviet authorities found themselves in the same position as a bank robber in this country who took his money to a store, but could not spend it because it was stolen. Russian officials who have tried to purchase American goods, he added, had been unsuccessful because American exporters feared they would later be called upon to account for "receiving stolen property."

FILIPINO SUCCESSOR URGED BY HARRISON

Manila—Francis Burton Harrison, governor-general of the Philippines, offered to tender his resignation eighteen months ago upon condition that the secretary of war recommend to President Wilson that a Filipino be appointed his successor, he declared. Governor Harrison said that he made the offer while in Washington in 1919. Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, in an address, declared that if the question were put before the Filipinos through a referendum 98 per cent would vote for absolute independence.

NAVAL PLANES FINISH DARING TRIP TO ZONE

FATALITY MARS VOYAGE

Longest Distance Is Upon Course Never Before Used.

Panama—Naval officers are enthusiastic over the successful completion of the flight from San Diego, Cal., to the Canal Zone by twelve of the Navy F-5-L seaplanes, which arrived Saturday evening. The two remaining machines were expected at any moment.

The flight of 3200 miles, completed in seventeen flying days, was marred by one fatality, Chief Radio Electrician Cain having been killed at Fonseca bay on the western coast of Central America, when he was struck by a propeller. The flyers encountered squalls in crossing the Gulf of Tehuantepec and were given a severe shaking up.

The flight, among the longest on record, was over a course never before traversed by aircraft, and the aviators made only one forced landing. The flyers were enthusiastic in their praise of the planes' Liberty motors.

Starting from San Diego on December 30, the planes made nine stops—Bartolome bay, Magdalena bay, Bandera bay, Acapulco, Salina Cruz, Fonseca bay, Punta Arenas, Bahia Honda and Panama. Captain H. C. Mustin, commander, stated that the flight was unique, since only two days were taken with the preparatory work.

HARDING SAID TO HAVE CAST HOOVER ASIDE

Opposition to Californian Removes Him as Cabinet Possibility.

Washington—Herbert Hoover is not to be a member of the Harding Cabinet, according to the latest information obtained by Senators direct from Marion. Harding, it is said, has decided that there is such strong opposition to Hoover among Republican factions that his appointment as a Cabinet member would create discord to hamper success of his Administration.

Harding has told some of his close associates in the Senate with whom he keeps in close touch that in deciding to pass over Hoover as a Cabinet possibility, he was sacrificing his own inclinations. He has been frankly outspoken in his declarations that Hoover would be a most useful man, and that his unquestioned abilities should be utilized in carrying out the general reconstruction program which the new Administration must put into effect.

There are several reasons cited here for dislike of Hoover, which appears to be general in Congress. The one most frequently cited is Hoover's strong endorsement of President Wilson's demand for a Democratic Congress two years ago, on the ground that unless the Democrats were continued in control of House and Senate, it would be impossible to deal adequately with the European crisis.

DISARMAMENT STEP IS TAKEN IN CONGRESS

Washington—Steps looking toward disarmament have been taken by the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which reported a resolution authorizing President Wilson to invite all nations to send delegates to an international convention to consider ways and means.

Although all members of the committee voted for the proposal, Democrats objected to its adoption now on the ground that it might embarrass the President. They contended it was a question which should be considered by President-elect Harding. Chairman Porter, an advocate of the movement, insisted, however, that it was the desire to have the resolution ready for Harding if Wilson did not act on it.

Senator Phelan also introduced a resolution asking the state department to report on discriminatory treatment encountered by American oil interests abroad.

CLUB STUDIES NOVELS

The few who braved the wind and rain of Monday afternoon to attend the meeting of the Country Woman's club were certainly glad they did, as the program presented was both entertaining and full of "meat".

Mrs. Harry Bean had the topic, "Standards for Judging the Worth of a Novel," which she presented in two ways. The first was in the form of letters from friends who are or have been closely associated with library and literary work and who had made a study of books. One of these was from Miss Myrick, connected with library work in San Francisco; another was from Mrs. Dorothea Smith Glass. All of them were interesting and shed real light on a difficult subject.

Mrs. Bean quoted from Bostwick's "Remarks of Literature" and read selections from Henry Barrows Lathrop's "The Art of the Novelist" and P. Marion Crawford's "The Novel: What It Is."

It is only within the last forty years that the novel has become the dominant feature of book production, before that time books on theology in various phases, science, treatises and essays forming the bulk of literary production. It is quite essential, therefore, that the reader have some standards by which to judge of the merit of the books he selects.

The second part of the program was a review of William Dean Howells' "The Rise of Silas Lapham," and it is not often that the amateur presents so comprehensive and interesting a review. Characters and events were delineated so clearly that it was almost like watching a screen production.

BOYS NOT GUILTY

For some weeks excitement has been rife among the high school contingent over the hailing into court of several of the boys of the school charged with malicious destruction to the old house on the corner of Santa Clara—Los Gatos road and San Tomas, owned by Mr. DiFiori.

Hallowe'en a party of high school students was entertained at the J. E. Crawford home and to add to the evening's entertainment several auto loads visited this old deserted house, which the youngsters tried to believe was "haunted."

As everyone in the vicinity knows, the place has been unoccupied for years and was in such a general state of dilapidation that even wreckers had said it was too far gone to pay to wreck. But Mr. DiFiori had the boys charged with breaking windows, demolishing banisters and woodwork on that night. Just why the particular boys were cited is not apparent, as practically all of the party were there, and, in addition, several outside parties.

The testimony of the numerous witnesses cleared the defendants and the cases against them all were dismissed.

THE CAMPBELL PROTEST AGAINST being made a reclamation district is being quite generally discussed; and the consensus of opinion is overwhelmingly in favor of an irrigation district. It has been authoritatively stated that the suggested Coyote reservoir would supply more than enough water to irrigate the entire Santa Clara valley. If this be true, why not form one large district and irrigate from that source? Every farmer would gladly vote a $100-per-acre bond to construct such a system, and the continued growth and productiveness of the valley would be insured for all future time. In this manner, no man would live to pay off all the bond, but the burden would be passed on to future generations. The engineer's report to the conservation committee has not yet been given out, but some light may be cast on the subject that will favor an all gravity irrigation district.

CAMPBELL BOASTS ONE OF THE BEST little theatres in the county. Since its completion by the Building and Investment Company, this community has been shown some of the best films to be had. In some cases we have seen them before they were shown on the San Jose or San Francisco screens. As a rule, Campbell has given the house a fair patronage, which has been appreciated by Mr. Rasco. Now that the colder weather is here, the management has installed heaters that the public may enjoy the plays in comfort. It is now up to Campbell people to patronize their home theatre, and keep it on a paying basis that it need not close for the winter.

Ten Thrift Tips

"Master money matters, or they will master you."

1. Spend less than you earn—
—to assure your being on the road to success.
2. Make a budget—
—to ascertain how you should dispose of your income.
3. Keep a record of expenditures—
—to see how close you come to your estimates.
4. Have a bank account—
—to keep your money in a safe place and help you to save.
5. Carry life insurance—
—to protect your loved ones in case of your death.
6. Make a will—
—to insure your resources going quickly to those you desire.
7. Own your own home—
—to secure the greatest satisfaction in your homelife.
8. Pay your bills promptly—
—to meet the moral obligation you have to your creditors.
9. Invest in Government securities—
—to help your country and to make a wise investment of your savings. Keep your Liberty Bonds.
10. Share with others—
—to fulfill your religious duty of stewardship.

In spite of Mr. Hicostofliving, war excuses and profiteering spend less than you earn.

Have a plan, and regularly, systematically and without a single failure, adhere to that plan. In other words, make the deposit every payday without fail, and it will become a habit and a very great pleasure.

In this case, count your chickens before they are hatched. Become enthused over what your deposit will amount to in twenty years. Don't think how little it is, but how big it is going to be.

Buy nothing on the installment plan. If you haven't the money to spare, don't buy.

If you need something you can't afford, deny the need.

Develop the business instinct. Think about saving and earning and amounting to as much as possible. Earn more, save more, be more. No one wants to be miserly, but the way people are spending, the suggestion is superfluous. Moderation is a good word in its place, but it should be exercised

W. C. T. U. NOTES

An unusually interesting and profitable meeting of the union was held by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union on Wednesday last at the home of Mrs. R. W. Kennedy. During the business hour the matter of working for a uniform national divorce law was discussed, and the fact brought out that there are forty-seven reasons permissible as grounds for divorce. The law in California is dependent upon eight. The superintendent of Legislation and Petition in Campbell Union had been instructed to write its Congressmen an appeal to work for a national uniform law.

The question of the new Harris law for prohibition enforcement was discussed and those present were enjoined to work faithfully for this bill.

A report of the committee on Christmas work for those in need was most gratifying, as donations of canned goods, jams, jellies, fresh fruit, shoes, stockings, underwear and a nice new bed-comfort had been given.

The need of a curfew law, especially during the summer months, was emphasized and instances cited of youths both boys and girls, allowed being together at the school grounds and buildings until midnight and after, a practice detrimental to both health and morals.

The topic for the afternoon's symposium was, "Can a mother be too patient and unselfish?" Each lady present gave thoughts upon the subject. "We sometimes see a mother too self-effacing, causing the child to become selfish and indifferent in the matter of honoring its parents. Do not let wrongdoing in a child pass because it is easiest for the moment. While there are times when forbearance ceases to be a virtue, impatience is a detriment to both mother and child. Mothers need to be much in prayer and to have infinite tact and wisdom in order to maintain parental authority, which it is necessary and wholesome that every child should recognize. Possibly a mother cannot be too patient, but she can be too lenient, toward her children's faults. Have a purpose to keep young with your children—young hearted, though old in years. Let mothers guard their own health. Cultivate a tender conscience in the child." These and many other helpful suggestions were brought out. Sketches from the life of Frances Willard's mother were entertainingly read by Miss Caldwell and Mrs. Parkhill.

A SURPRISE WEDDING

A wedding of interest to many Saratoga people was solemnized in San Jose when Mrs. Frances C. Rowell and J. A. McCoy were married, both being residents of Saratoga.

After a brief honeymoon spent in Pacific Grove and Monterey they will reside at Congress Junction, where the groom has prepared a cosy bungalow and they will be at home to their friends.

Hard Facts Food for Thought

The days when the products of the farmer are going down and the wages of the worker being reduced, call for sober facing of hard facts.

At such times the man who has something "salted down" has a buffer between himself and the rough edges of hard conditions. But what of those who are not so fortunate? For them a period of depression is a good season to begin the "salting" process. Often, because economy becomes the fashion, saving is easier in hard times than in good times. So the present is not the occasion for discouragement, but for a firm stand and fresh beginnings.

Concrete benefits obtained from a period of prosperity are usually a reward of thrifty habits acquired in times of depression. Facts with hard, sharp corners have thus spurred many men to a success that they could never have achieved otherwise. CROSS-EYES HIS JINX

An Ankle and a Car Involved in His Undoing.

Retribution overtook Michael Nicki of Philadelphia.

Nicki, who is cross-eyed, was driving a car in which were two companions, Ernest Becker and Joseph Ganidi. A street car was approaching and a perfect 36 in a short, tight skirt was crossing the street. The motorman was sure Nicki was looking at him. Those on the sidewalk were sure he was gazing ankleward.

Anyway, street car and automobile met, and so did Nicki and the police. The car, it was found, had been stolen a few hours before. Nicki and Becker were given medical attention, then locked up. Ganidi was taken to the Bridwell hospital to recover from minor injuries.

And then the police remembered three men who looked exactly like Nicki and his comrades were driving an auto truck stolen from J. Peterson when it collided with another automobile a few days before.

HUNTER DRIVES BARGAIN

Oregonian Trades a Wolf for a License to Wed.

Wilbur Holcomb, a young farmer of Holley, Ore., traded a gray wolf for a Hawk the other afternoon and only had to give County Clerk Russell 50 cents to boot. The Hawk was of the Holley variety and very rare, in the opinion of Mr. Holcomb. Her name was Lulu G., and she is now Mrs. Wilbur Holcomb. County Clerk Billy tied the nuptial knot.

Mr. Holcomb is somewhat of a hunter as well as a successful soldier in Dan Cupid's regiment. He shot the gray wolf, brought it into the clerk's office, secured the bounty of $250 and straightway applied it on a marriage license. His application was also sent in to the state game commission for the larger premium of $20 offered by the state for the extinction of gray wolves in Oregon, and the lone gray wolf may pay part of the honeymoon expenses of the newlyweds. They will make their future home near Holley.

ALDERMAN PLEADS GUILTY

City Father Picked Up As Speeder and Fined.

"I am guilty as charged, your honor."

Alderman Hiram F. McCullough of Evanston, Ill., made this statement in the court of Justice John F. Boyer when arraigned on a charge of speeding.

The justice coughed and looked away. Motorcycle Policeman Louis Windleborn blushed.

"I think $2 and costs would be a reasonable fine for one with such a high regard for civic duty and honesty," said the justice.

Alderman McCullough paid the fine.

The Farmers and Merchants Bank of Dos Palos opened its doors for business recently.

STORE GOSSIP

Mrs. D—— said, only yesterday, that "Powdered Skim Milk is just the thing!" for cocoa or chocolate. She might have added that the powdered milk is inexpensive. A 40c can will last a long time.

It was Mrs. S—— who first suggested that we put "Two-Minute Wheat," the new breakfast cereal, in stock. Others are liking it too, for it is different, making a welcome change. Although a 20c package looks small, it will go surprisingly far.

It is another Mrs. S—— who keeps us posted on the good qualities of that mild California Cheese. It is better, if anything, since we began keeping it under one of those new cheese bells, which, besides being sanitary, retain all the original moisture. Still 40c a pound.

When Mrs. M—— phoned an order for delivery, a day or two ago, she said, "—and a pound of coffee, that 40c package, the steel-cut kind. I like it particularly well." Of course we are pleased when any one boosts Blaine's Steel-Cut Coffee.

Since all the foregoing is in the nature of gossip, it is, needless to say, strictly confidential—"not to be repeated to anybody!"

P. S. The new pattern sheets, for February, are in. Ask for one. You'll be interested also, in the Spring Fashion Book, Quarterly, and the February Delineator.

The last shower, enjoyed by the ranchers of this valley, was the best for some time. The rainfall at Campbell was registered at 3.50 inches, bringing the January fall to 4.25 and the seasonal to 11.28 inches. The creeks have been running full, carrying floods of water rich in sediment to the sea. The J. E. Crawford ranch, however, was more than supplied, being a veritable lake Monday.

FARMERS SIGN UP

Probably one of the best attended meetings ever held in Campbell was the campaign gathering of the Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., last Friday night. Those attending were bona fide growers of this section of the county who were interested in the success of the association that has meant so much to them the past few years.

A number signed up their contracts and many more have indicated their intention to sign. Campbell has always been a strong supporter of the organization and will continue to uphold it.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Plans are being laid for the campaign for funds for the relief of the starving children of Central Europe, of whom there are many thousands.

Herbert Hoover, who has taken charge of the collection for the United States has announced that $10 will save the life of one child until another year's harvest, when it is hoped that these nations may be on their feet.

The apportionments for the different districts of Northern California and the appointment of chairmen have been made by the San Francisco headquarters. J. C. Ainsley has been named for the Campbell district and an allotment of $1500 made. There is seemingly some mistake in this amount as a number of towns considerably larger than Campbell have smaller apportionments.

Whereas this community is always ready to do its share in all respects, we do not feel that it is right to be called upon for an amount beyond our capacity, so that we receive a "black mark" by failing to make good, although this has never happened yet.

While we are waiting for details to be completed and solicitors appointed, let every one be considering the situation and the great need and be prepared to help as much as possible.

Having kept these innocent children alive so far, we surely will not withhold aid for one more year and so permit them to die.

Robert Olds, son of Mrs. Lillian Olds, who was engaged in this relief work during the war, with headquarters in Paris, is still in Europe and writes of the terrible destitution and the millions of undernourished children, who will grow up to be the weak parents of the next generation unless properly fed.

CAMPBELL DEFEATS FAST SAN MATEO

Campbell high has again put a large feather in its athletic bonnet in the basketball league game Friday. Considerable glory is attached to this feat as our basketballers brought low the much-heralded San Mateo tossers. Our boys had everything to gain and they went out to get it, winning by a score of 72 to 17.

At forward Gross and Benner were everywhere and of the non-stop variety, making some exceptionally difficult throws. Vern Sawyer, R. Hulsman and Jos. Heinzen proved themselves such offensive guards that the opportunities were rare and difficult for good shooting by the far famed visitors. Fred Heinzen with his headwork in running signals and strenuous pep simply outclassed his opponent.

The visitors displayed excellent team work, showing that they were well coached in the game, but our boys were too active.

Owing to the heavy rains the local court is not in condition for the game with San Jose scheduled for this afternoon, and it has been indefinitely postponed.

OSTEOPATHY EXPLAINED

Osteopathy maintains that the human body contains all the remedial agents necessary for the maintenance of health. It further asserts that the curative fluids are distributed when and where needed except when such distribution is interfered with by structural disorder.

The average person usually makes the expression that Osteopathy may be good for some things such as Headache or Rheumatism.

While that is very true, if it was understood that the Osteopath understands just how and where to manipulate for the relief and cure of all other ailments and disorders they would not hesitate to procure osteopathic treatment.

WINE-MAKING IN HOMES WILL BE PERMITTED DRY SQUAD MAY DIFFER

Authority Is Obtained From Revenue Department, Announces Wardell.

San Francisco—Home manufacture of dry wines is authorized by the Internal Revenue Department, according to announcement made by Justus Wardell, Collector of Internal Revenue for this district. The announcement comes as the result of instructions received from Washington and is interpreted by Collector Wardell as an official construction of certain provisions of the national prohibition act, but whether the prohibition enforcement branch of the Government will take a similar view has not been officially determined.

Persons who paid Collector Wardell for wine production stamps last season and then found themselves in conflict with the prohibition enforcement agents are fearful that, while the Internal Revenue Department extends permission to make without taxation 200 gallons of dry wine for family use and provides for payment of a tax when this quantity is exceeded, the prohibition enforcement agents may take a different view and that trouble may be in store for the winemaker.

BANKS ARRANGE FOR FINANCING COTTON CROP

Los Angeles Institution to Furnish $2,500,000 for Aid to Growers.

Los Angeles—All banks in Los Angeles have joined in an arrangement to finance the cotton crops of California, Arizona and New Mexico to the extent of $2,500,000, according to an announcement by J. Dabney Day, vice-president of the First National Bank. Arrangements for the financing were completed Tuesday, according to the announcement. Under the plan adopted, the banks will advance to banks in the cotton-growing territories sums up to 20 cents per pound on Pima or long staple cotton, and 8 cents per pound on short staple cotton, to cover the cost of picking, ginning, baling, warehousing and insuring. This loan will be made to the local banks upon their several indorsements of the growers' notes, when the notes run for ninety days and are supported by the necessary yard tickets, warehouse or compress receipts or bills of lading. The Federal reserve agent, it was announced, has agreed to accept this paper and carry it to maturity as eligible for discount.

WORKERS IN BELGIUM MAY TAKE FACTORIES

Brussels—The metal workers of Chatelinea, four miles east of Charleroi, are reported to have taken a secret ballot in favor of occupation and exploitation of the foundries in the district on Communistic principles. [Chatelinea is a city of about 15,000 inhabitants and has many foundries.]

The El Dorado board of supervisors at its December meeting granted the petition of the residents of Brandon School district asking that the boundaries of the district be changed by taking in a portion of three other districts—Latrobe, Buckeye and French Creek. The action was necessary in order to prevent the district being suspended for lack of attendance necessary to secure state aid.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM DONNER

THE SAND FAIRIES.

"Old Dr. Mud was very angry and we had to have a talk with him," said one of the Sand Fairies. "He talked about the fact that he had heard of children making sand pies instead of mud pies and he felt quite badly for a while. He said it had come to a pretty pass when children gave up making mud pies for sand pies when mud pies for years and years had been so important and so fine."

Such Sand Pies.

"Of course I explained to him that he mustn't feel hurt. He asked me how he could help but feel hurt and I told him that down by the sea the children didn't have mud to make mud pies with and so they used the sand to make sand pies with. He said that was quite different and he didn't feel angry or hurt any more."

"He hadn't realized that by the ocean there was only sand and no mud such as he has."

"And I told him how the children made the sand into sand pies with the aid of old Mother Ocean and he was quite interested, for that is how the children do make the sand pies."

"And such sand pies as they do make—many, many sand pies. And they often put the pies in the sand castles they build so that the sand people they make can have sand pies to eat!"

"But, come, Sand Fairies, all of the rest of you, come and play. The Breaker Boys are very anxious to play hop, skip and jump with us. Mostly they want to play the jump part."

"They want to dash high in the air, and the Spray Grandchildren are all about longing for a great game."

"Old Man Wind is around, old Nurse Fog is too, the White Capped Boys are ready—everyone is ready for a great and wild game."

"We will be washed out and back again, and we will feel the great and wonderful waves dashing over us."

"We will taste the salt taste of our beloved old Mother Ocean and her children."

"We will feel the white, billowy foam going over us."

"Come, Sand Fairies, come all, for we're to have a great Ocean Storm right here on the beach, right along the coast."

"And the people will watch us and will say: 'What a summer day! And they will also exclaim: 'Oh, look at the waves! Aren't they huge! And how they dash over the beach. And over the rocks. How high they are! As high as cottages and as high as houses. And see the Spray!'"

"That will rejoice the Spray grandchildren. They love to be noticed too!"

"Come, Sand Fairies, all of you come and join in the great storm."

"And all of the Sand Fairies said that they were ready."

The Breaker Boys ran races as they dashed in over the beach. The Spray Grandchildren rose high in the air, tossed up on the shoulders of the Breaker Boys.

Old Mother Ocean laughed and chuckled in her great deep roaring voice and the White Capped Boys whispered wildly to old King Foam:

"Stay around, stay around, we need you and we love you!"

And old Man Wind roared and blew and said:

"This does my windy heart good. I am delighted with this. I am simply delighted with a storm like this."

"It makes me feel so fresh and strong and well. It is good for the wind to exercise!"

And the Sand Fairies laughed with glee, and said:

"Ah, what fun this is, and how nice it is that there are so many of us to enjoy a storm such as the dear old Mother Ocean and her friends are giving us now."

"And while the children are looking at the storm we wonder if there are any of them who know what a great lark all the Ocean family and friends are having today, what a great and glorious game!"

"We believe they do for they're admiring us and not grumbling about the weather. They understand we're having a party, a most wonderful party."

"Yes, they understand their friends the Sand Fairies, and they know that they're having fun, great fun!"
